Callable amortizer (Quarterly term) rates are updated on Tuesdays, live rates can differ greatly from above. Caps apply to 3 month LIBOR. For advances with callable options, member can prepay at par on specified dates with required prior notice. Option cost for callable advances is calculated as the difference to the equivalent term Fixed-Rate Fixed Term Advance. Option value for Fixed-Rate Puttable advances is the difference from Fixed-Rate Fixed Term Advance rate of maturity equal to the lockout term. Member is selling call option to FHLBC. Minimum $5mm for advances with embedded options. For fixed-rate floating-spread advances, the 3 month reset case is shown here, where the floating-spread resets every 3 months at the difference between the 3 month FHLBC Advance Rate Index and the 3 month LIBOR setting. Initial rate valid for first setting. Initial difference compares rate to equivalent term fixed-rate fixed-term advance.
